

WHEN ALL WE CAN SAY IS WHY

LUKE 13:1-5

Text:

Introduction:

September 11, 2001. It was a day that Americans will never forget. It was a day that changed our way of life forever, a day that destroyed our sense of invincibility. When the twin towers of New York's World Trade Center and the walls of the Pentagon fell to the ground, citizens feared what would become of their great country. Thoughts turned to religion and to the Bible. How could a loving God let this happen? How can Christians continue to worship a God who presides over such destruction and catastrophe?

Churches opened their doors Tuesday evening for prayer and meditation. Attendance was much higher the next Sunday because of those seeking answers. Many found ministers preaching psychology and liberal doctrines that give no answers and no comfort. Their "feel-good" religion would not work in this situation.. While mankind struggles to understand, the Bible itself has answers to our questions. I direct you to Luke 13:1-5. This passage seems on the surface to be a "hard" saying in the midst of tragedy. But if you examine this text in its entirety, I believe you will come away with a sense of God's message to us today in the face of our current circumstances.
